

Wolfson Norman Hargreaves-Mawdsley Clarendon Scholarship

The Scholarship was endowed by the family of Professor Norman Hargreaves-Mawdsley. Professor Hargreaves-Mawdsley was a British historian who specialised in eighteenth-century Spanish and European history.

Degree type and subject

The Wolfson Norman Hargreaves-Mawdsley Clarendon Scholarship is available for applicants who are applying to undertake any taught or research postgraduate course in history, for research pertaining to (1) Spanish or Latin American history, or (2) general European history.

Value of award

Course fees and a grant for living costs for full-time students of at least £15,285 (students on part-time courses will receive a study support grant instead). Awards are made for the full duration of fee liability. Previous Oxford students are advised to check the University's Fees and Funding pages for any applicable adjustments to fee liability resulting from prior study.

Residence criteria

Applicants from all countries will be considered.

Partnership

The scholarship is part-funded by the Clarendon Fund.

How to apply

There is no separate application process. All applicants should apply to the University of Oxford under the standard procedures for graduate degrees for 2021-22. Applications should be made by the January deadline for your eligible course. If there are two or more candidates of equal academic merit, priority will be given to the candidate who has listed Wolfson as their first choice college on their University application form. The Scholar will become a member of Wolfson College for the duration of their studies.
