

Oxford-Wolfson-Marriott-Graduate Scholarships 2020/2021

Additional Information

The Oxford Wolfson Marriott Scholarships have been made possible by a donation to Wolfson College from the late Dr Francis Marriott, who was a University Lecturer and Fellow of Wolfson from 1970 until his death in 2012. Dr Marriott conducted research in the field of biomathematics, and taught statistics. The scholarships are part-funded by the Oxford Graduate Scholarship Matched Fund.

Eligible degree subjects

Wolfson will be offering Marriott Scholarships in the following subjects for 2020-21 entry.

- DPhil Archaeology
Scholarship for a three-year DPhil in Archaeology, offered in partnership with the School of Archaeology
- DPhil Surgical Sciences
Scholarship for a three-year DPhil in Surgical Sciences, offered in partnership with the Nuffield Department of Surgical Sciences
- DPhil Environmental Research
Scholarship for a four-year DPhil in Environmental Research, offered in partnership with the NERC Doctoral Training Programme.
- DPhil Primary Health Care
Scholarship for a three-year DPhil in Primary Health Care, offered in partnership with the Nuffield Department of Primary Care Health Sciences.
- DPhil in a qualifying AHRC funded course (AHRC Doctoral Training Partnership)
Scholarship for a 3 year DPhil course which is eligible for AHRC funding and is one of the courses accepted for study at Wolfson College.

Value of award

Course fees (at the Home/EU rate) and a grant for living costs for full-time students of at least £15,009 (students on part-time courses will receive a study support grant instead). Awards are made for the full duration of fee liability for the agreed course (previous Oxford students are advised to check the University's Fees and Funding pages for exceptions due to prior study). The awards will be made in partnership with a number of departments, faculties and centres for doctoral training that may, exceptionally, enhance an award to bring it up to the overseas fee level.

Residence criteria

Scholarships are open to applicants who are ordinarily resident in the EEA or Switzerland.

How to apply

There is no separate application process. Applicants, whether internal or external, should apply to the University of Oxford under the standard procedures for graduate degrees for 2020-21. Applications must be made by the January deadline for your chosen course and all eligible applications will be considered. If there are two or more candidates of equal academic merit, priority will be given to the candidate who has listed Wolfson as their first choice college on the University application form. The successful scholar will become a member of Wolfson College for the duration of their studies.
